

Italian Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Australia Inc.

Welcome to October 2010 at the Sydney chamber office.

We have been 'molto impegnati' lately with aperitivo evenings, business luncheons plus a delegation visiting from Parma, all while final preparations have been underway for next week's Gala Dinner – we look forward to seeing you there.

BUSINESS LUNCHEONS On the 25th August, the Italian Chamber held a unique event at Sydney's Hilton Hotel. Members and guests were treated to a candid conversation between Janet Albrechtsen, columnist with The Australian newspaper and former NSW Premier, the Hon Bob Carr.

Ms Albrechtsen and Mr Carr engaged in a lively discussion and spoke candidly for over half an hour on a variety of topics, including the recent Federal election, Australia's population issues and the Economy before taking some questions from the audience.

On the 26th August we were delighted to be a part of the first European Chambers Business Luncheon at Doltone House in Pyrmont. Speakers Tim Harcourt, Chief Economist for Austrade and His Excellency the Ambassador for European Union Delegation to Australia, H.E. David Daly, addressed the topic of Australia's focus in global trade and attendees enjoyed mingling with their counterparts from a variety of European backgrounds.

32nd Gala dinner and business excellence awards.

The countdown is now on for this popular event, which will be held next week on Friday October 8th at The Westin Hotel, Sydney. We are all looking forward to celebrating another successful year here at the Chamber and to showcasing our members' achievements in business with the presentation of the ICCI Business Excellence Awards. These prestigious awards go to those companies who have excelled in fostering relationships between Italy and Australia and are selected by a committee of highly esteemed judges. We will be treated to a glamorous Italian fashion parade and will also be inducting one of our members into the ICCI Hall of Fame.

Parma in Australia

● It was an action-packed week, but also a rewarding and successful one - from the 13th to the 17th of September, the Italian Chamber in Sydney had the pleasure of welcoming two delegations from Italy, who attended the 2010 Fine Food exhibition in Melbourne. Working closely with the Italian Chamber in Melbourne, we were able to support both the Abruzzo Region and the Chamber of Commerce of Parma by promoting their excellence in the food sector. In regards to the Parma Chamber, with which the ICCI started a very fruitful relationship last year, our Chamber also organised several events to promote the world famous Parma Ham and Parmigiano Reggiano to the Australian public. This was the first time that the Consortium of the Prosciutto di Parma, (which is responsible for safeguarding the integrity of the product) participated in this kind of promotional activity in Australia. After the fair, the Parma delegation moved to Sydney, where they were welcomed by the Italian institutions and the business community. The eight companies visiting from Parma then had the opportunity to meet with their Australian counterparts and to establish new partnerships in the fields of agricultural production, food processing machinery and precision mechanics. As an added bonus, a meeting with Sydney University representatives resulted in the discussion of some interesting opportunities in food technology research that could potentially involve the prestigious University of Parma. Luigi Mariani
